WINNIPEG, June 27, '98.

Count Ito, premier of Japan, has resigned. No sign of settlement of the Welsh coal strike.

Spain is fitting out a third fleet of warships.

Sagasta denies that peace negotiations are pending.

Several citizens of Windsor were fined for smuggling.

The Clifton house, Niagara Falls, was destroyed by fire.

The third expedition to Manila embarked at San Francisco.

The United States advance column is within four miles of Santiago.

Nominations in the British Columbia general elections were held on Saturday.

The United States lost 22 killed and 70 to 90 wounded and Spanish 39 killed in a recent fight near Santiago.

Washington, June 27.—Interest has shifted sharply from the navy department to the war department. The newspapers report in brief and graphic telling a short, but bloody engagement between Spaniards and the United States and the rough riders, who are romantic figures in the American army. The engagement has aroused popular interest to a great point and the war department had scarcely opened for business before a crowd of newspaper men and others interested had filled the hall and the vicinity of the bulletin boards, seeking for official information that would supply data missing from the press accounts. It was not until nearly noon that the first cablegram came from Shafter as follows: "Plaza-del-este. Adjutant-general U.S.A. Washington, Baquiri 24.—Further news from General Wheeler places our loss in this morning's fighting at about ten killed and forty wounded. Capt. Caprin was killed. The wounded are: Major Brodie, Capt. McClintock and Lieut. Thomas, Major Bell, Capt. Knox and Lieut. Byram and Knox, seriously. Wainwright, formerly reported wounded, is uninjured. The names of others killed and wounded are not yet known. The Spaniards occupied very strong and entrenched positions on high hills. Firing lasted about one hour. The enemy were driven from their position which is now occupied by our troops at about a mile and a half from Sevilla. Enemy has retreated towards Santiago de Cuba. (Signed) Shafter."—The war department has also received the following despatch from Shafter, received after though apparently written before his despatch given earlier in the day: "Plaza-del-este, 25, to adjutant-general, Washington, Baquiri, 26.—In pushing out to occupy good position near Sevilla to wait and retreat until supplies and artillery could be landed, the fourteenth and first cavalry and Wood's regiment, and the 25th Infantry, were driven back from position and Wheeler reports he now occupies their position. Wounded Bell, Knox, Wainwright, Byram and a number of men. (Sgd) Shafter."

Off Jaraguá, 25.—The troops of United States and Spain are almost face to face. They are less than four miles apart to-night and picket lines and sentries are within hailing distance of the enemy. A battle at Santiago must come within a week. The landing of troops, horses and supplies has been very rapid with only one steam barge. They were compelled to depend on treacherous small boats. Shafter landed more than 14,000 men and hundreds of horses and mules. Only two men lost their lives. Not more than fifty animals were drowned and scarcely a package of supplies was lost.

THE LANDING.

C. deW. Macdonald, advocate, returned from a trip to Athabasca Landing on Thursday afternoon, having left the Landing on Wednesday morning. A party of six, having two boats, were making ready to start down the river. Mr. Macdonald did not learn the names, but two were English and four French. Wilson and Bracher and eight men were ready to leave for Peel river with a York boat and a sturgeon head. Other parties of one were there awaiting a chance to get down the river. A report reached the Landing that Lutch's steamer, the Sparrow, was stuck on the head of the Grand rapids. Another report stated that a two ton cargo boat of the H. B. Co., with W. T. Livock on board, struck a rock in one of the rapids below the Grand and was wrecked. A lady passenger bound for the north, was aboard this boat. No lives were lost, but most of the cargo is said to have been. It was believed that the Alaska Transportation and Mining Co's steamer had got through the Grand rapids all right. Capt. Parly, who had gone down the river with the Clatworthy party, had left them at Grand rapids and walked back to the Landing alone, 160 miles. He was pretty well used up. Business at the Landing has flattened out considerably. Two saw mills, owned by the H. B. Co. and Pearce Bros., are working short time. There is a good stock of lumber and also completed boats on hand. Geo. Russell is running a bakery and restaurant, and H. Cinnamon a butcher shop and provision store and intends to have a feed stable this winter. It was reported that eight boats had been wrecked in the rapids during the season, but no lives had been lost. The road to the Landing was good.

War and Rolled Oats.

O'er earth's greatest Empire the Union Jack floats, And this proudly due to the use of Rolled Oats. While war news ro thunders, one can't keep it quiet, The States battles for freedom are won with this diet.

With Great Britain, The States, and Rolled Oats in alliance To all other Nations we could bid bold defiance. No union in Europe our position could mar, If the Oats be well branded with Brackman & Ker.

Remember Dargui and remember Finallater, Whose "Pap" was Rolled Oats from the hand of his Mater, And Hobson, the gallant, each patriot soul fills. Oh! such men are the outcome of National Mills.

Roller Oats islands rich like the Philippines gain, And National Stuff will free Cuba from pain; Porto Rico is settled as one of war's fines, While Our Cereals, well rolled, secure Carolines.

If our brand of Rolled Oats had died been of Spain, That country would surely have guarded the Maine; Then proclaim with loud voices, and sound it afar, B. & K. National Oats will an end put to War.

COMPLIMENTARY ADDRESSES.

A public meeting was held on the race track on Thursday evening at 7:30 for the purpose of reading complimentary addresses to Frank Oliver, M. P., for Alberta, on the occasion of his return from Ottawa. The several addresses had been prepared by local committees appointed at Edmonton, South Edmonton and St. Albert. The grand stand was fully occupied by ladies and gentlemen, and a much larger number were unable to get seats. A platform had been erected in front of the grand stand on which the committees were seated, and from which the addresses were read. The Edmonton brass band was in attendance under the leadership of bandmaster Clark, and played appropriate selections. On the platform were: M. McCauley, M. L. A., chairman; D. Maloney, M. L. A., St. Albert; F. Fraser Tims, M. L. A., Fort Saskatchewan; W. S. Edmiston, mayor of Edmonton; W. Johnstone Walker, vice-president Edmonton board of trade; J. S. Gibbons, president of Edmonton liberal association; A. C. Rutherford, president South Edmonton liberal association; J. H. McDonald, South Edmonton Plaiddealer; R. McKernan, president South Edmonton agricultural society; A. Prince, president St. Albert liberal association, and Mr. Oliver.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman who stated the purpose in a few brief remarks.

The South Edmonton people had intended to present an address at the railway station on Monday evening when Mr. Oliver arrived, but were prevented from doing so by the rain. On their behalf A. C. Rutherford, read the following address:

F. OLIVER, ESQ., M. P.

The citizens of South Edmonton and surrounding country are pleased to welcome you on your return from your parliamentary duties.

We desire to give expression to our sincere appreciation of the marked ability with which you discussed the various questions which affected the Northwest Territories and Alberta in particular during the past session. Matters arose which were of vast importance not only to Alberta, but to the whole of Canada, and we feel that you did your duty and acted in the best interests of the country.

Your constituents are gratified that the Stikine-Teelin lake railway bill received your strenuous opposition.

The government of the day have a grand opportunity for promoting and extending the mercantile and manufacturing interests of Eastern Canada and the agricultural, mining and other resources of the West by favoring and opening up for travel and traffic an all Canadian route by way of Edmonton and the Peace River country to the northern gold fields. We have also a water route which is proving to be of great advantage to prospectors bound for the north and west.

An expenditure by the government of a very reasonable amount for the development of these routes would be money well spent, and would do more than anything else towards giving a permanent market for the products of the farmers, and would also aid in populating the rich agricultural lands of Alberta and thus render the settlers prosperous and contented.

You have done more than anyone else in placing before the house and country the benefit and advantage to Canada of having the routes indicated made more easy for traffic.

An amount has been voted by parliament for the purpose of exploring and finding out the best route to the north, and we hope that the government will during this session, as a result of these explorations, be convinced that we have the safest, the most accessible and the best all-Canadian route to the Klondike.

It is of the utmost importance to all Canada that the vast tract of fertile agricultural land in the Northwest should be opened for settlement and placed under cultivation. The government should carry out a vigorous immigration policy. We are pleased to note that you have given this matter your careful attention.

You are the representative of one of the most important constituencies in Canada. Many questions will arise in parliament affecting the interests of Alberta, and we feel that we have in you a representative who will express our views honestly, fearlessly and ably, and that you will act in all matters which may come before the house in a way which will tend towards the promotion of the development of Alberta, and the whole of our beloved Canada.

On behalf of the citizens of South Edmonton and vicinity.

ROBERT McKERNAN,
A. McLEAY
J. H. McDONALD,
A. C. RUTHERFORD, Committee.

A. Prince, St. Albert, then read the following address from the people of that settlement:

FRANK OLIVER, ESQ.,
M. P. for district of Alberta.

DEAR SIR: The electors of the most northern part of your constituency desire to join in this demonstration of the towns of Edmonton to congratulate you, and to express their gratitude for your valuable work during last session for the protection of the interests of Northern Alberta and of your district generally.

By your talents, your work, your tact, and the courage of your opinion, you have attained a point which is rarely seen in any electoral division of the Dominion. Because, although retaining the full confidence of liberals, you have also convinced the conservatives that you are the worthy son of Alberta, and that our interests could not be put in better hands. If we want the development, the progress, the welfare of our country, so full of resources of all kinds, we needed a man of your experience and ability to fairly put our case before the Dominion of Canada.

We are now irrespective of political parties, bringing to you the congratulations and thanks of the agricultural settlements being the extreme limits of the organized part of the Territories. You have before interested yourself in regard to our part of your district, and you will have to work more in the future for our particular interest, that is for a land route to the gold fields of the north, which will necessarily cross our settlements; and for the scrip to half breed children. Believe that you have our confidence, and all the help that can be given to you in the achievement of your task. Our population will always be at your disposal if the principles which have animated you in the past stay as firm as your reputation for upright manhood.

Wishing you the success you so well deserve politically and otherwise, believe us, Sir,

Yours truly,

W. Johnstone Walker read the Edmonton address as follows, and presented Mr. Oliver with a beautifully framed, engraved and illuminated copy, the work of Mr. Thos. Spence:

FRANK OLIVER, ESQ., M. P.

Sir: We the inhabitants of Northern Alberta have much pleasure in tendering you a very hearty welcome on this your return from the parliamentary duties of the session.

We wish also to give expression to our high appreciation of the able manner in which you have performed the important duties which devolved upon you as representative of this portion of the Northwest.

We assure you it was with marked satisfaction that we noted the best interests of the Northwest. Among others might be mentioned the Teelin lake railway scheme, the C. P. R. monopoly, the culpable neglect of the sick and dying employees at the Crow's Nest pass, etc.; on all of which important questions you rendered a service difficult to overestimate.

We are convinced also that the able addresses delivered by you during the winter to the boards of trade and at other meetings in the leading cities of the Dominion have in no small measure already resulted in advancing the best interests of the Northwest. And it is with a unanimity never before attained that we assure you how very glad we are to welcome you again to our midst; earnestly praying that "the blessing of Him by whom kings reign and princes decree judgment may rest on you forever."

C. GALLAGHER,
President board of trade.
W. S. EDMISTON,
Mayor of Edmonton.
M. McCauley,
M. L. A.

Mr. Oliver replied at a considerable length. He felt very deeply the kind expressions used in the several addresses. The more because they were from those amongst whom he had lived so long and by whom he was known so well. Also because they came from what in some cases had been conflicting interests, but now united, looking towards a common end. His effort had always been to find ground upon which all could work together for the general benefit. The eastern route to the Yukon was a question of this kind. The expressions used in the addresses on this subject he believed voiced the sentiments of the electors of Alberta generally. He was pleased to have such unanimous approval by the people of the constituency of the course which he had taken on this matter. No matter how right he might think he was or how well the case which he advocated was presented, unless the voters of the constituency were ready to back up his vote in parliament his opinion would have little weight and his efforts little success. In political matters votes count, and with the vote of the constituency supporting him his position was greatly strengthened on the floor of parliament and with the government, and therefore he was in a better position to secure advantage to the constituency. As the South Edmonton address had said the need of Alberta was expansion of markets. He had always felt this, and also that the natural and most profitable market for the agricultural products of Alberta was the mineral region lying just across the Rocky Mountain from the International boundary to the Arctic ocean. Alberta was deeply interested in the development of any part of that great region whether in Kootenay, Cariboo, Omicame, Casair or Yukon, and in getting profitable access to the market created by that development. We had secured access to the markets of Kootenay, and improved conditions were being secured from time to time. We had profited greatly by that market; and when the Yukon excitement arose, we felt that we had a natural right to the largest share of that market. He had not antagonized other parties getting a share of the advantages of the Yukon trade. But he had fought against Alberta being entirely shut out. We had not as yet secured an improved eastern route to the Yukon, but the question of route was still open. We had still a fighting chance, as we would not have had, if the Stikine railway bill had passed. But the Yukon and the Kootenay were only parts of the vast region to whose development Alberta looks for its future market. The whole vast region to the north, the northwest, the west and southwest was included, and something was being done by the government in all these directions. The Crow's Nest pass railway would soon give direct access from Southern Alberta to the undeveloped regions of East Kootenay as well as to the more fully developed mines of West Kootenay. A geological survey party was now at work in the Jasper pass, directly west of Edmonton, on the route to Cariboo, with a view no doubt of deciding to what extent the development of communication in that direction would be justified. Two railway survey parties were expected here shortly to explore for a railway route by way of Peace River through Northern British Columbia to Telegraph Creek, and their work will add greatly to what is already known regarding the value of the Omicron and possibly adjoining new diggings, and the route to them. A sum of $15,000 has been provided for the opening up of a trail northwest from Edmonton. It is expected that this sum will be played at the disposal of the Northwest government, who will provide an equal amount to extend the road now open to Peace River on to Nelson river, and possibly further, on the direct Edmonton route to the Pelly and Yukon. To the direct north expenditures are being continued in testing for petroleum on the Athabasca and arrangements are being made for negotiating a treaty with the Indians of the Peace and Athabasca river regions next year, so that that vast country, which is directly and unquestionably a market for Alberta products, will be thrown open as a field for enterprise of all kinds, and we may therefore look for great and rapid development there. Taken altogether the outlook was highly favorable. It had begun to be apparent to the people here, and to the people elsewhere as well, that we had not made any mistake in choosing this far western district of Alberta as the field for our exertions. This was the region where Canada was great in valuable territory. In the east it was but a strip along the great lakes and the St. Lawrence. Even in Manitoba there was only about 100 miles of farming country between the boundary line and Lake Winnipeg. But here along both sides of the Rocky Mountains there was a stretch of country 1,500 miles in length, valuable for grazing, for agriculture or for mining throughout that distance, and it was a question whether the most northerly or the most southerly part was the most valuable. It was a great country and was worthy of the best exertions of its people. As the parliamentary representative of Alberta he deeply felt his responsibility. The interests of the district had been his first consideration and he was more than gratified to find that he was so thoroughly in accord with the people whom he had the honor to represent.

COMPLIMENTARY ADDRESSES.

The proceedings were closed by the band playing God Save the Queen.

BANQUET.

A banquet to Frank Oliver, M. P., was given in Robertson hall on Thursday evening, the occasion being his return from attending the session of parliament at Ottawa. The chair was taken at 10:30 o'clock, by M. McCauley, M. L. A. Four tables were set lengthwise of the hall with a fifth table across the north end. At this table were seated, the chairman, Mr. Oliver, M. P., Messrs. D. Maloney and F. Fraser Tims, M. L. A.'s; Jas. Gibbons, president Edmonton liberal association; T. A. Gregg, of the Toronto Telegram; J. H. McDonald, of the Plaindealer; F. Villeneuve, of L'Quest Canadien; Major Helpman, of the Helpman exploring party, and others. The positions of vice-chairman were filled by Mayor Edmiston, W. Johnstone Walker, vice-president of the board of trade. The hall was decorated with flags and an orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Bebec added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. The dinner was furnished by the management of the Queen's hotel. The toast list was as follows: "The Queen"; orchestra, "God Save the Queen"; "Army and Navy"; Major Helpman and H. M. Bing; "N. W. M. Police" ex-sgts. W. H. Cooper and J. C. Gordon; "Our Guest" Mr. Oliver; song, "Hilly, Holly," J. L. Johnson; "Northwest Assembly," Messrs. Tims and Maloney, M. L. A.'s and the chairman; Orchestra selection; "Dominion Parliament," Mr. Oliver; song, "Black eyed sailor," D. Ross; "Town of Edmonton," Mayor Edmiston; "The Press," Messrs. J. H. McDonald, F. Villeneuve and T. A. Gregg; Orchestra selection; "The Ladies," Rev. H. A. Gray. God Save the Queen.

A WRONG REPORT.

Edna, Alta., June 16, '98.
EDITOR BULLETIN.
DEAR SIR: Had someone, who reported a fire at Edna in your issue of the 9th inst., only taken a little time to ascertain facts, an unfair and offensive inference would have been avoided. It is not true that I was burning brush, as stated, whereby my stable and outbuildings were burned, nor was there the slightest possible connection between the fire on the one hand, and that which burned a neighbor's stable and pig, as naturally inferred from said report. Too frequently the news from Edna, as published in the BULLETIN, contains personal and harmful reflections upon residents of this quiet, but busy community, which tend to engender their ill-will towards the author of such correspondence; this also could be avoided.

Your truly,
A. WHITESIDE.

ABUNDANT RAINS.

The exceptionally dry weather from which Northern Alberta suffered this spring, broke on Monday last in a glorious rain storm, and several heavy showers have occurred since with light, warm weather between. Crops had not suffered much in the Edmonton district, but had reached a standstill. During the week they have come on wonderfully and a good return is now almost assured. Prospects are little if any behind those of last year at this date, and no better crop than last year's could be asked for. Wheat stood the dry weather better than oats and was little if any the worse, as the deep black soil of this region stands dry weather extra well. Generally, North Alberta has plenty of rain while South Alberta and the country eastward at least to Moose Jaw, is short of moisture. But this season the conditions were reversed, and while there were splendid rains from Moose Jaw to the Rockies, Northern Alberta had little or none. However, the weather broke at last and the country is safe.

RAILWAY SURVEY.

C. F. K. Dibble and V. E. Dupont, engineers in charge of the exploratory railway surveys being made under authority of the department of railways, arrived on Friday's train with members of their parties. Mr. Dibble's assistant is H. S. Semple, of Montreal, and Mr. Dupont's, A. T. Kerr, of New Brunswick. They will require to purchase about 45 pack and saddle horses and will have to hire several packers and axemen. Their supplies were purchased in Ottawa before they left, but are not expected to reach here for some days yet. In the meantime they are preparing for a start. They propose to contract for the freighting of their supplies from Edmonton to the points at which they will respectively commence work. They expect to be in the field until driven off by severe weather.

Mr. Dupont's work will begin on the Peace river at the British Columbia boundary about forty miles east of Fort St. John. He will explore along the Peace through the Rocky Mountains to the junction of the Finlay and Parsnip rivers. His supplies will be freighted to Fort St. John and Hudson's Hope, at the foot of the Rocky Mountain range.

Mr. Dibble's work will commence at the junction of the Finlay and Parsnip rivers, whose union forms the Peace, and to which point his supplies will be freighted. From there he will go northward up the Finlay and the Omenica, and on in the same general direction towards Telegraph Creek, getting as far as possible this fall.

A third party will start from Telegraph Creek and work southward to meet Mr. Dibble's party in the unknown country lying between the upper waters of Peace river and of the Stikine.

THE HELPMAN PARTY.

Major Helpman, of the Helpman prospecting party, returned to town on Monday from Lesser Slave lake, coming in via the Landing. The remainder of the party are at the lake and the Peace river crossing. The expedition reached Lesser Slave lake on the 11th inst., after having had a hard trip. At the lake the men hired to assist in taking the outfit through, seven in all, were discharged. Three of them, namely Chas. Alexander, Jas. Cameron Proven and Jas. Milburn came in to town, and the other four, Sidney and Oliver Travis, Chas. Cottrill and John Oliver remained at the lake.

At the Peace the party is to be formed into two expeditions, one party goes down the Peace and the other will prospect during the summer, on the Wapiti. The party which goes down the Peace will consist of Major Helpman, Capt. Hall, Dr. Hoops, Dr. Hallwright, Messrs. Jeffries and Bannister and Sandy McDonald. The party to prospect on the Wapiti will be composed of: Col. LeQueune, Mr. O'Brien, Chas. Powell, Geo. Gilmore and Sam Cunningham, the latter three being merely employees of the company. Major Helpman came in to arrange for the taking out of additional supplies for the two expeditions. The Glen Campbell party were just getting to the lake on the 17th. They were travelling with travois and had lost only one horse.

FORT VERMILION.

H. F. Davis, the well known old-time trader, came in from his post at Fort Vermilion on the Peace river, four hundred miles below the crossing on Thursday. The trip in occupied thirty days, the total distance being 800 miles. The route travelled was up the Peace to the Peace river crossing, thence overland to Lesser Slave lake and down Slave lake and river and the Athabasca river to the Landing. Mr. Davis was accompanied on the trip from Vermilion to Slave lake by S. Lawrence and Harry Panter and from the lake he brought a party of retaining Klondikers. The Harris Bros. also accompanied him from Peace river crossing. This latter party was on the way to the upper Peace with a band of cattle, but one of the brothers was taken ill and forced to return from beyond the Battle river, so the two brothers returned together and left for their homes by the next train after arriving here. Their outfit was sent on in charge of another man.

Regarding gold on the Peace Mr. Davis says it is an error to suppose that paying placer claims exist any place on it. He has prospected it years ago and many old time miners did the same. Sometimes they would make wages, but even then the pockets would be too small to last more than a few days. In the early days, when Barkerville boomed and the excitement arose over the placer claims in the Cassiar, Chinamen worked as far east on the Peace as the Rocky Mountain portage, but could find no good paying prospects and so returned. Mr. Davis mined in Cassiar fifteen or sixteen years ago and has been through many placer mining booms. He considers that the Klondike mines will live longer than any other of the old placer mining booms, by reason of the difficulties of getting to and working them. Out of the thousands who flock there, thousands will return, as is always the case, but a few will remain and prospect and some, of course, will strike it rich.

Speaking of the fur trade, in which he has been engaged for many years, Mr. Davis says the fur bearing animals of the north are becoming rapidly extinct. The scarcity of martens is particularly noticeable. The only exceptions are the beaver, which seem to be more plentiful than in the past year or two. All the other more valuable fur bearing animals are decreasing to an alarming extent. This decrease he attributes to the fact that in past years the Indian hunters when they found one breed of fur-bearing animals becoming scarce, would cease hunting them for a couple of years and devote their attention to other animals, thus giving the first a chance to multiply. Of late years, however, the hunting and trading competition has been more keen, and, as a result, the Indians have hunted and trapped indiscriminately and the results are shown in the small catch of this year. Last season's catch was not as large as that of the preceding year and this year the amount secured was materially less than that of the preceding season. The Klondike travel also served to make the catch lighter as many of the hunters were enabled to make their living as guides, and by other means, and so did not trapping.

Another matter which Mr. Davis referred to was the decimation by a strange scrofulous disease, of the Beaver Indians, whose hunting grounds lie north of the Peace to the Liard and from the mountains east to the Athabasca and Slave rivers. These Indians are rapidly dying off and the disease being contagious is rapidly spreading. Three years ago, he says, there were three Indians where there is one now. At Vermilion a large number of hunters lived a few years ago, to day there are only nine hunters there and four or five of these are afflicted with the disease. At Hay river, where he goes twice a year to trade, there are now 18 or 19 hunters whereas a few years ago there were three times that many. A child hardly ever lives to be five years old. In ten years, Mr. Davis says, there will hardly be an Indian in the country. The ultimate result of this great mortality, Mr. Davis predicts, will be that the fur-bearing animals will increase and fur will become more plentiful every year.

Mr. Davis has been an invalid for the past several years and on his journeys to and from his post has had to be carried from boat to wagon, on making the portages. This year however, he is improving and stronger than he has been for years. He expects to start back on the return journey in about a week.
